

A few good reasons to work here

Sales

Marketing

Retail

Supply Chain & Procurement

Engineering & Operations

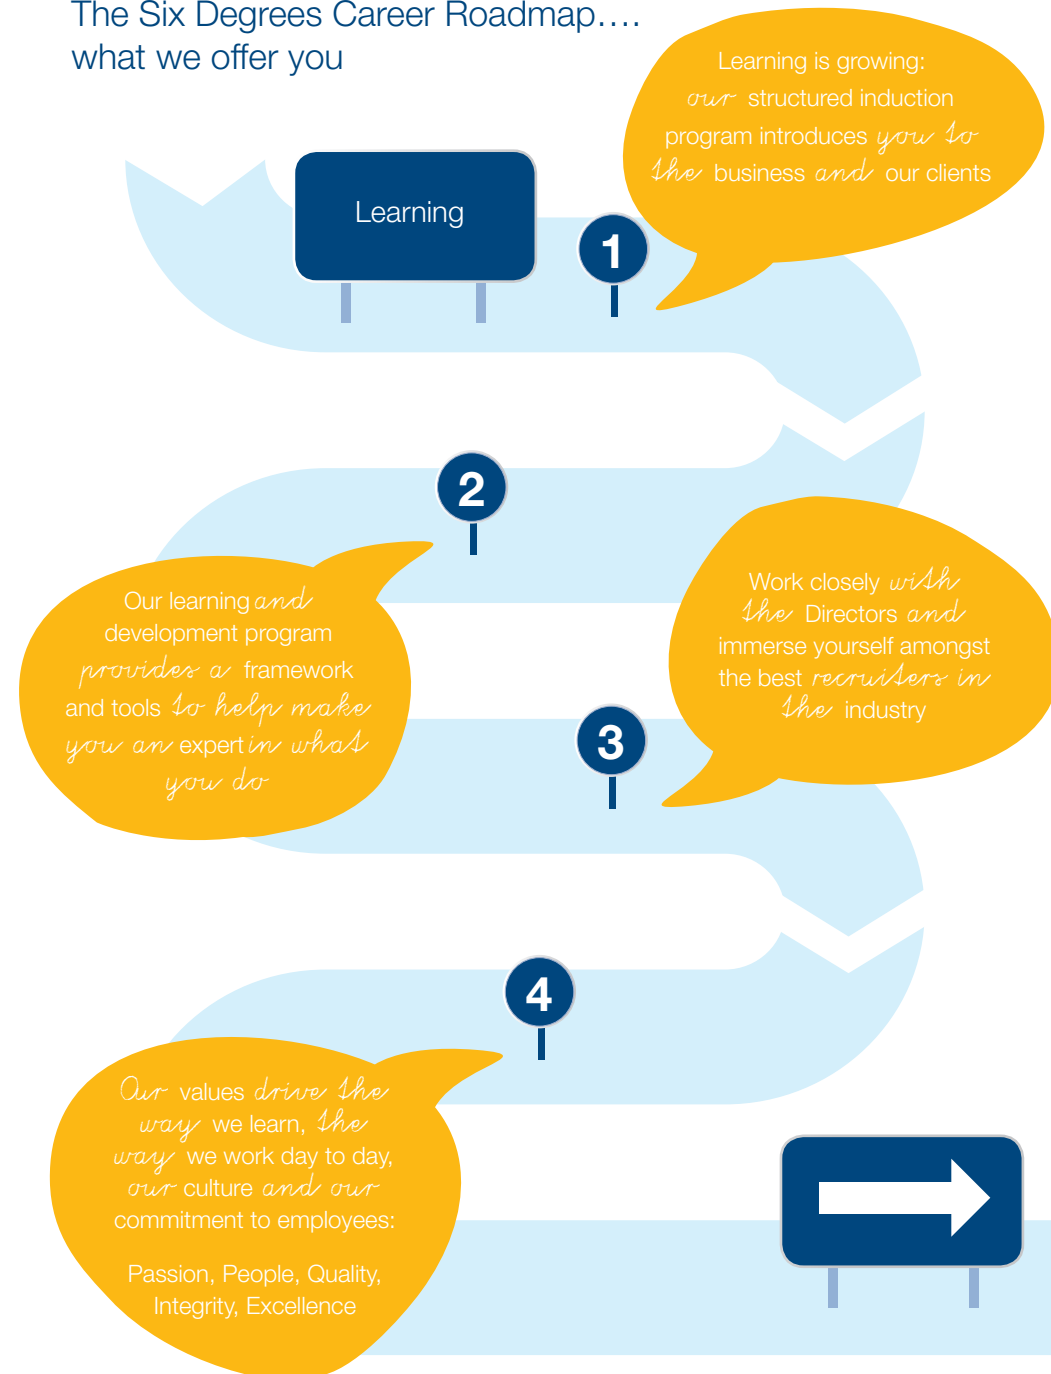

Six Degrees Executive

At Six Degrees, our core business is in the sourcing and selection of talent across Sales, Marketing, Retail, Supply Chain & Procurement, Engineering & Operations. As specialists in these disciplines, we have the deep industry and employment market knowledge to allow us to add real value and true partnership.

Core to our business and employee success is a team focused culture which involves celebrating achievement, an in-depth induction and learning program, a personal and career development plan which helps employees achieve their goals, and finally an industry leading reward and recognition program.

“our people are the foundations of success and we strive to support, encourage and reward them in reaching their full potential”

The Six Degrees Career Roadmap.... what we offer you

Become an Expert

Work with our long established network of blue chip clients, including numerous preferred supplier agreement relationships

5

Develop yourself as an expert working across a specialised discipline on senior level roles in a true consultative style

6

We offer support and world class infrastructure to help you reach your potential and achieve exceptional results

7

Our quality and continuous improvement program supports consultants in managing a thorough process whilst working to the best industry standards

8

Your opinion is important: our regular internal engagement surveys and workshops give you the opportunity to tell us what you think.

We listen & act

13

Giving back is part of what we do: we offer paid community service leave to all employees and organise team charity days

12

Our health & wellbeing program which includes personal training, yoga and meditation courses, encourages a healthy work/life balance

11

Our high performance culture incorporates regular team celebrations and events

10

9

Be respected & rewarded

Your achievement is recognised through a best in class rewards and recognition program:

- Accelerated commission structure
- Up to 5 weeks annual leave
- Opportunity to salary sacrifice annual leave
- Paid maternity and paternity leave
- Salary packaging

Be part of the success story

We are proud to have been awarded Seek SARA, Seek SARA Legend and FEMA awards year on year

15

We have a proven track history of a first time fill rate of over 92%. More than 90% of candidates we place remain in their roles beyond 1 year

14

Every preferred supplier agreement has been renewed year on year: we have never lost a client

16

Our history of exceptional results predicts future success.... Be part of that adventure.... Be the best you

17

As a growing business with a vision for the future, boundless career opportunities exist...for you to define and make your own

18

What our employees say

A committed, engaged and motivated team means we have one of the lowest employee turnover rates in the industry.

Why?

Adam Kurdas

Associate Director, with Six Degrees Executive since 2005

"At Six Degrees, I know I am given the support to be successful, the autonomy to manage my own business and every opportunity to develop personally and professionally. From the moment I started at Six Degrees, I could tell that I was surrounded by successful, engaged and like minded people. I could see that I was amongst the industry's elite and knew I was going to have a long and successful career. Each and every day is a new challenge where no two days are the same. It keeps me fresh, focused and determined."

Suzie McInerney

Manager: Sales, Marketing and Retail division, with Six Degrees Executive since 2010

"When I started with Six Degrees I was promised the business would provide me with the support, resources, learning and development to realise my full potential. That promise has been delivered upon from the first day I stepped foot in the building and I have found my new vocation in recruitment, and my work life with Six Degrees to be instantly rewarding. In addition, the culture, comradery and business spirit make coming to work each day a pleasure. I am proud to attach the Six Degrees brand to my own, and enjoy delivering on our business values for our clients, candidates and for my peers."

John Molony

Manager: Supply Chain and Engineering division, with Six Degrees Executive since 2008

"The recruitment industry does not always have the best reputation so it has been a great experience to spend the last 4 years with Six Degrees, a company where quality and service is a reality, not lip service. We have a close-knit, team environment where people can achieve great results with the structure, process and most importantly people here who make themselves readily available. Six Degrees is an environment which embraces new ideas and vision and yet will not compromise on values and standards. This is what makes it such a unique, enjoyable place to work. I'm very proud of my time here and being part of what I believe to be a business without rival in the recruitment industry".

Contact us today

Melbourne	03 8613 3500
Sydney	02 8024 7100
Email	enquiries@sixdegreesexecutive.com.au

www.sixdegreesexecutive.com.au